

Frozen River Trek Zanskar (Ladakh) – 15 or 25 days

Trans-Zanskar winter trek with Buddhist Festival

Tour JTT-LWT01: Delhi - Leh – trekking – Leh - Delhi

Trekking through wintry Himalayas is an experience that is hard to beat. Those who have done it, hoard a well-kept secret: it is a fantastic, mesmerizing experience. On this trek we throw in an extra element: frozen rivers. Most of the time we walk on the ice of the Zanskar River and other large streams.

This means the trek entails relatively little climbing, making it quite doable for experienced walkers. Obviously, this is not a tour for people with cold feet.

Itinerary

Day 01: Arrival Delhi

At Delhi Airport you will be received by our representative and taken to your guesthouse not far from the airport for overnight stay.

Day 02: Flight Delhi - Leh

Early morning fly for an hour from Delhi to Leh. Generally we fly over the spectacular views of the snow-clad Himalayas. On a clear day the Karakoram can be viewed as well.

After reaching Leh, you'll be transferred to a charming family-run guesthouse just outside Leh. The rest of the day you're advised to take it easy to allow the body to get used to the altitude. You can either rest at the guesthouse or stroll leisurely through downtown Leh (transport available).

Day 03: Leh

Day spent in and around Leh. As it is still wise to avoid exertion we shall only make short walks in and around Leh. You will get your first taste of the colorful and fascinating Tibetan Buddhism on a visit to some monasteries near Leh, including the small but picturesque gompa (monastery) of Sankar.

Please note: also on the individual tours you will be shown a Buddhist festival, if the dates coincide.

Dinner and overnight at the guesthouse.

Day 04 - 13 (long version: 04 - 23): Ice trek

After breakfast jeeps will take us to the beginning of the trek (2-3 hrs drive). After arranging our luggage by our porters we'll start off on the ice.

On the short trek we'll walk to the isolated area of Zanskar over the ice, rest for a day in a small village and then walk back. The route back will be largely the same as the way up.

On the long version we traverse Zaskar from south to north along a unique route, most of the time following rivers and walking on the ice. So there is no back-tracking, as there is on the short version. After covering some serious distances, we reach some very isolated Zaskari hamlets, where one can encounter the track of snow leopards and wolves.

It takes two days in jeep to get to the starting point. Accompanied by the Zaskari porters we'll walk, slide, slip and shuffle through a wintry wonderland till we get off the ice again, 17 days later, not far from the Indus Valley in Ladakh. In between there are several hidden monasteries and small villages. During the trek we rest for two days, which also serve as a buffer in case we get behind on schedule.

During the jeep trip from Leh to the starting point (long version) of the trek and during the trek itself we will camp, on the resting days it is possible to stay with a Zaskari family.

Day 14 (long version: 24): Leh

On this day we will be attending a colourful Buddhist Festival. On the short version of this tour this will be the Dosmochey Festival, at either Leh or Likir Gompa. On the long version of the trek we will visit the Stok Guru Tsechu at Stok.

Day 15 (long version: 25): Flight Leh – Delhi

After breakfast transfer to the airport to board the flight to Delhi, where the tour ends.
