Journeys into Adventure and Nature

Arunachal Pradesh East to West – 19 days

Tour JTT-APBC01 (cycling): Dibrugarh – Roing – Pasighat – Aalo – Mechuka – Daporijo – Ziro – Tezpur

Activities & sights: cycling, visit tea plantations, traditional tribal villages,

On this tour you'll cycle through some of India's most remote and least visited parts. Skirting the borders with Birma and Tibet (China) the back roads of Arunachal Pradesh make for very good cycling. There is little traffic, no dangers, the people are friendly and the scenics are awesome. The tour starts in India's easternmost city, Dibrugarh, set among lush tea gardens on the banks of the Brahmaputra. Here, you'll stay in a nineteenth century tea planter's bungalow with an utterly pleasant old world atmosphere. Then we'll take you even further west to the quaint little town of Roing. From there you'll bicycle north along the Brahmaputra, following it upstream where it rushes through deep gorges in densely forested mountains dotted with archaic bamboo house villages. Turning west you pass through the small towns of Along, Daporijo and Ziro, each strongholds of different tribal cultures. Coming down to the Brahmaputra flood plain again you'll explore idyllic Majuli Island with its unique dancing Hindu monks.
